

ST HILDA'S CHURCH, SOUTH SHIELDS

The organ was built in 1867 by T. C. Lewis of London. In 1904 it was somewhat altered by Nicholson & Lord, but the original character was not greatly changed. It was overhauled by Harrison & Harrison in 1924, and repaired in 1946 after bomb damage. It was restored in 2004, with the 1904 alterations retained.
